MC+ Managed Care in Missouri

MC+ Managed Care

MC+ is a health insurance program. MC+ pays for health care. It gives you access to doctors, hospitals and other health care providers. You must meet income guidelines to be eligible for MC+. In order for some people to qualify, they can not have had health insurance for the past six months. Some MC+ members may have to pay a premium, copay or both. Premiums and copays are determined by family income. Each MC+ Managed Care member must have a Primary Care Provider (PCP). A PCP manages a member’s health care. Some areas of the state do not have MC+ managed health care plans. Eligibles living in those areas will receive health care services through MC+ Fee-for-Service. MC+ Fee-for-Service members must go to MC+ approved providers for health care. Call 1-800-392-2161 for a list of MC+ approved providers.

Cancers of the Breast, Cervix, and Ovary need to be found and treated early to fight them successfully. Educational brochures, booklets, or videos can help women understand these cancers and methods for treating them. This information can tell you if you might be at risk for getting these diseases. If at risk, you should be checked as often as your doctor thinks is best. MC+ plans above with a “B”, “C” or “O” in the screening column have programs to encourage at risk people to get their screenings to find that cancer. MC+ plans with “B”, “C” or “O” in the information column target educational materials to these people at risk for that cancer.

Plan Reminder Phone Calls or Letters about Pap tests and mammograms help you remember to go in, when your doctor wants you to, for cancer prevention checkups. MC+ plans that offer these reminders have either a “M” for mammogram (also called a breast x-ray) or a “P” for Pap test in this column. Department of Health believes it is better to be reminded of both.

Checkups for Cervix Cancer use a Pap test to find cancer before it spreads. MC+ plans that score high do a better job of getting women members to the doctor for their yearly checkup.

C-Section Deliveries of Babies should not be done unless your doctor says it is necessary. Mother and baby take much longer to recover from these deliveries. MC+ plans that had fewer members receiving cesarean sections were scored higher.

Early Care for Pregnant Women often means healthier babies and quicker recoveries after delivery. MC+ plans with a high score had the most mothers who had at least one doctor visit during the first three months of pregnancy.

At Yearly Dental Checkups, teens and children get tooth and gum problems fixed, and they learn how to take care of their teeth. MC+ plans that scored high were the best at getting members in for a yearly visit to a dentist.

Immunizations for Ages 2 and 13. By age two, children need shots for diphtheria, tetanus (lock-jaw), whooping cough, polio, measles-mumps-rubella (MMR), flu, and hepatitis B. By age 13, children need hepatitis B and an MMR booster. MC+ plans having less than 50% of members with shots at these ages scored low. No one scored high by the Department of Health’s standards (70% or greater). Still, MC+ plans marked with an “*” got much better rates of immunization than the others.

Sickle Cell Anemia and Asthma often show up during childhood. Sickle cell diseases are inherited blood problems found mainly in people with families from Africa, the Caribbean, the Mediterranean, Middle East and South Asia. People with sickle cell diseases feel weak, have attacks of pain, and get sick easily. Asthma makes breathing hard and is usually triggered by allergies, exercise or viruses. Finding this early and staying on treatment can control these diseases. An “S” (=sickle cell) or “A”(= asthma) in these columns show which MC+ plans have programs to encourage at-risk people to get their screenings for finding these diseases and to offer informational materials to them.

Diabetes and Depression diseases can strike anyone, especially kids, teens, and older people. Major depression can make a person feel unusually mad, lonely, or sad and even suicidal. Diabetes is a blood sugar problem. Most diabetes shows up after age 40, but children can get it, too. Pills can control both diseases and diabetics often do not need insulin shots. Help prevent these diseases by keeping your weight down, eating healthy, and exercising. “Db” (= diabetes) or “D” (=depression) in the columns above show which MC+ plans have programs to encourage at-risk people to get their screenings for finding diabetes or depression and to offer informational materials to them.
